

Tuesday
Aug 11th
5pm-6pm
AEST

Connection IS the Content: A Pathway to Wellbeing

Fun is the method.
Wellbeing is the outcome.
Connection is everything.

Presented by Mark Collard

Experiential Trainer, Author &
CEO of playmeo

The science is in: educational programs which intentionally develop trusting & healthy relationships outperform all other curricula on so many levels: greater participation, improved academic performance, stronger communities & extremely happy students.

Here's the good news: building that connection doesn't have to be serious work. This interactive, hands-on workshop is your permission slip to play. We will explore the latest wellbeing research and then get straight into a collection of fun, field-tested group games and activities designed to build real connection, the kind that makes students feel valued, supported and excited to show up. Activities that work just as well online as they do in person, and that slot easily into your existing curriculum without adding to your load.

Expect to leave this workshop energised, inspired, and armed with a toolkit you can use in your very next lesson.

Register

SESSION OUTCOMES

In this fast-paced webinar, you will discover:

- Fun, field-tested activities that build real connection, both online or in person
- Why trusting relationships are the foundation of every high-performing classroom
- The two critical elements that dictate your classroom's performance.
- Free resources to expand your repertoire long after the session ends

ABOUT THE PRESENTER

Mark Collard

(Experiential Trainer, Author, Founder & CEO of playmeo)

Mark is an experiential trainer, author and founder of playmeo, the ultimate toolkit of icebreakers, energisers and team-building activities, used by thousands of teachers worldwide. His training & resources help teachers create engaging classroom environments in which students are invited to interact, share & connect. He has written five top-selling activity books, including his latest two publications: Serious Fun and No Props No Problem.

Learn more about Mark and playmeo here or connect on LinkedIn.

Register

